

The figure is a scatter plot with three clusters of data points. The cyan cluster is located on the left side of the plot, the magenta cluster is in the center, and the blue cluster is on the right. Each cluster is represented by a large black circle at its centroid. The axes are marked with tick marks but do not have numerical labels.

